fisionTV® Voice Control

Alexa Pairing

This guide will teach you how to pair your Fision set-top-box with Amazon Alexa.
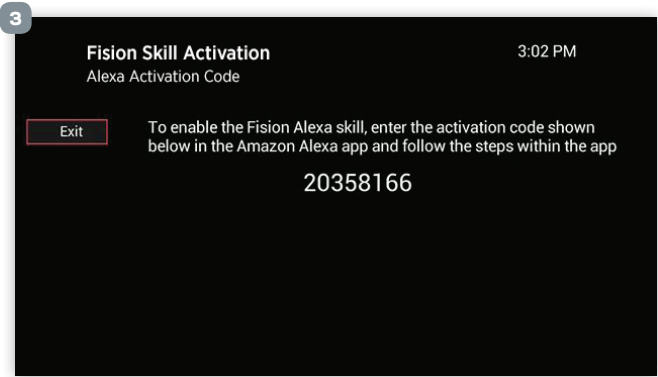

Optional

If you would like to customize your Fision set-top-box name so that it is identifiable, please follow the steps below:

1 Press (MENU) on your remote control and select "Help". Scroll down to "Voice Control Pairing", then select "Alexa Activation". You will be prompted to name your set-top-box (STB); select a name from list or select "Create Custom" to enter a custom name.

2 To edit or rename the STB, press the ⬅ⓧ button at the bottom right to remove the current name, rename the STB, and then press "Save".
3 Your set top box is now ready to use with Alexa. Press "Exit". Also make note of 8 digit pin that appears on-screen.

Alexa lets you control your Fision TV set top box with voice commands. Tell Alexa to change the channel by call letter or number; search for shows, movies by titles or actors; open up the Recordings, Menu or Guide; play, pause or rewind the current show

Try saying:
"Alexa, tune to CNN."
"Alexa, show me movies with Will Smith."
"Alexa, find Modern Family."

7 Enter the 8 digit pin you received during step 3.

8 Select "Manage and Link Devices".

9 A list of your Fision devices will now appear. Select the set-top-box that you are linking the Amazon Echo Dot or Echo device to. *If no devices appear in list, click on the "Discover Devices" link.

10 Select the Echo device that you want to pair to the Fision set-top-box, then click "Link Devices".

11 You should now see "Unlink Devices" next to the Fision device you just successfully linked. If you ever need to unlink a device you would select this option.
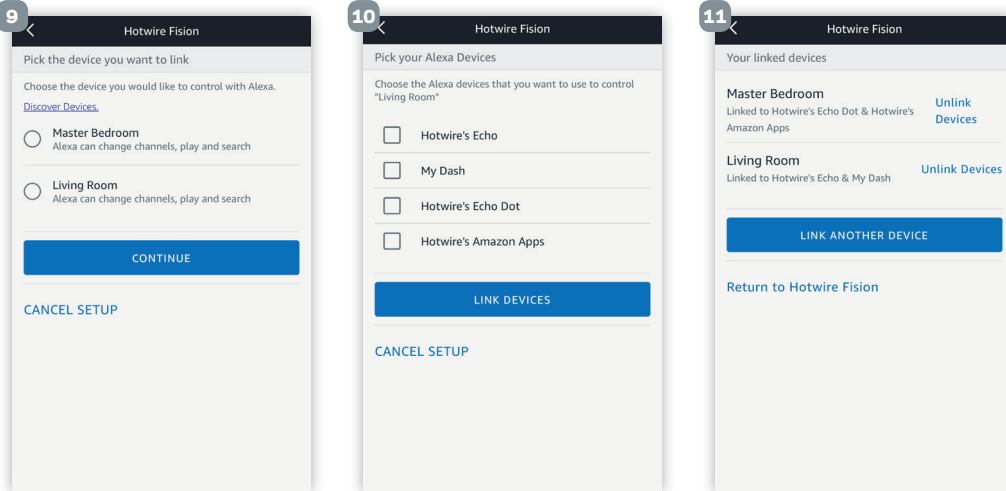

12 ## Your Alexa device is now paired!

NOTE: If you are setting up more than 1 Alexa device, you can quickly return to the activation code screen by returning to "Help" in the main menu, and then follow the same instructions.
